THE MAGIC MOMENT PHOTOGRAPHY

She's back!

Farrah Abraham or um, Vivid released a new sex tape from the former Teen Mom reality star.

For whatever reason, Farrah is trying to pretend that she's fighting the release of Farrah 2: Backdoor and More.

I haven't seen her follow up but if it's anything like the first...she should fight the release! Her first "sex tape" was so staged, so awful that it ranked second on my list of worse sex tapes ever, behind Weinergate fame Sydney Leathers'.

Kim to Kanye: Honey do these pants make my butt look big?

Kanye to Kim: No. However, your butt makes those pants look really, really small!

That's how that conversation should have went just prior to super booty Kim Kardashian walking out of the house in a pair of slacks that HAVE TO BE pre-pregnancy!

It looks like she's tugging at them, probably to get them out of her throat! They're so tight, the lining is trying to escape!

I am not hating but damn these Kardashian girl are passing out ass like ear plugs at a monster truck show...right?

While TFM couldn't find any news on Khloe Kardashian's divorce being finalized, she was captured on video at Tru Nightclub giving rapper The Game's crotch a whole lot of her backside as her mother sat on the sidelines. It must have been that blunt she was smoking! The only question left is whose career will benefit the most from this hook up.

STORY OF THE MONTH

The world lost two of the greats!

Phillip Seymour Hoffman, the fearless actor, passed away of a drug overdose at the age of 46.

Shirley Temple Black, the world's original child star, passed away at the age of 85 of natural causes.

Brittany Taylor

A smile that will light up a room and if you happen to not get mesmerized by her pearly whites, you might just notice...her beautiful hazel eyes! One of the most amazing facts about Brittany is that at one time she weighed more than 300 lbs.

Here's some stats:

Height: 5'7"

Weight: 165

Bust: 36G

Waist: 36

Hips: 43

Hair: Brown

Eyes: Hazel

Brittany is a gorgeous inspiration to curvy models everywhere!

Haunted House #2

Crossing new lines and breaking old barriers, A Haunted House 2 is the sequel to the box-office hit starring Marlon Wayans as Malcolm who, after exorcising the demons of his ex, is starting fresh with his new girlfriend and her two children.

After moving into their dream home, Malcolm is once again plagued by bizarre paranormal events.

IN THEATRES NOW

About Last Night

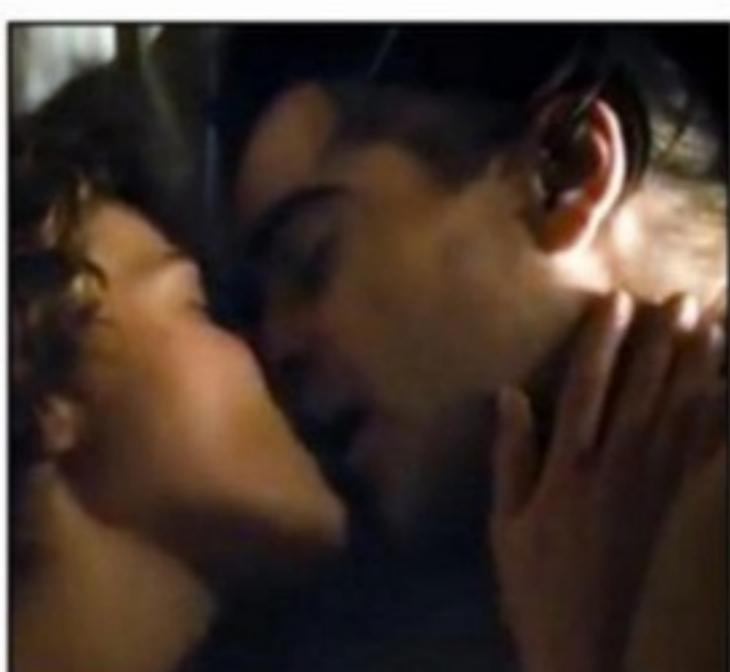

A modern reimagining of the classic romantic comedy, this contemporary version closely follows new love for two couples as they journey from the bar to the bedroom and are eventually put to the test in the real world.

The chemistry between Regina Hall and Kevin Hart is unbelievable!

3 Days to Kill

Secret Service Agent Ethan Runner discovers he's dying and decides to retire in order to reconnect with his estranged family. But when the Secret Service offers him access to an experimental drug that could save his life in exchange for one last assignment, he soon finds himself trying to juggle his family, his mission, and the drug's hallucinatory side-effects.

A Winter's Tale

Set in a mythic New York City and spanning more than a century, Winter's Tale is a story of miracles, crossed destinies, and the age-old battle between good and evil.

The trailer nearly made me cry!

The Butler

As Cecil Gaines serves eight presidents during his tenure as a butler at the White House, the civil rights movement, Vietnam, and other major events affect this man's life, family, and American society.

From beginning to end this movie is very humbling!

Not only is it a wonderful story about the life of Cecil

Gaines, it's also a glimpse into our own lives.

The film is like our own personal soundtrack as it moves through each president and some of the challenges that we as Americans faced during each president's administration.

Combine that with a very personal story that is easily relatable and you have a five star film.

Available on DVD and RedBox

Let me Explain

The comedy in this concert film is a WHOLE lot darker than some of Kevin's other stand-up films but what do you expect, he just went through a divorce!

Despite that the flick is still full of laughs!

Bad Grandpa

I was so ready to laugh my ass off. I sat down with my kids, thinking a kid is in the movie...how bad could it be? The kid is cute but in the scenes where he's not around it's hardcore bullshit...SKIP IT!!!

Album of the Month

The first thing that hit my heart was Dontae Winslow's devotion to changing lives through music. If you are going to use your talents for anything, there is no nobler a cause. As for the album Enter the Dynasty, well... there's nothing groundbreaking about it! What you will get is a collection of rhythms and fantastic sounds from a great artist. One of the stand out tracks is Blaxploitation & Revolution ft. West coast Get Down, this is on fire from start to finish! The tune Drinks on me seems out of place but is followed by the very soulful Summer Cookout. All said, it's a jazz offering that goes down easy.

Julia Zabrodina

You've modeled for Playboy, what was that experience like? Everyone I dealt with was extremely nice and professional.

Did you ever get a chance to meet Hef?

No, not yet!

What attracted you to Top Floor Magazine?

Great quality material and tasteful images, not to mention all the hot girls.

Once we ordered a pizza after a shoot. The photographer dared me to open the door wearing nothing but a wig. I did...the delivery guy didn't even smile. March 2, 2010

Francesca Frigo

August 2010

Francesca was born in Venezuela but moved to Florida when she was a teenager and quickly fell in love with the vibrant energy and flashy culture of South Beach. She still lives in Miami today, and often spends free time away from modeling with her four dogs.

It's her exotic look that earned her a spot on our list.

Aliya Wolf

February 2004

In addition to being a Playboy Playmate, Aliya was also a Spokesmodel for Star Search and former Miss Houston USA.

Though she was 29 at the time of her pictorial - which is almost 65 in Playboy years - she has the awesome MILF look that we all crave.

8

Janine Habeck

September 2006

Born June 3, 1983 in Berlin, Germany. She's a German model. Was the Playmate of the Month (February 2004) and Playmate of the Year 2005. She was later the September PMOM in 2006 for the U.S. edition of the magazine.

In November 2005 Janine Habeck was awarded the title Miss Centerfold by readers of the German edition of Playboy, celebrating the 400th issue of the magazine.

7

Pennelope Jimenez

March 2003

Pennelope Manriquez Jimenez (born July 26, 1978 in San Diego, California) is an American model and actress. She was Playboy's Playmate of the Month of March 2003 and has appeared in numerous Playboy videos. She is of Mexican heritage.

Since her Playmate appearance, she has continued modeling and has appeared in other commercials, advertising campaigns and catalogs.

Kara Monaco

June 2005

Kara Monaco (born February 26, 1983 in Lakeland, Florida) is an American model. She was chosen as Playmate of the Month by Playboy magazine in June, 2005.

She appeared on the cover of the June 2006 issue of Playboy as the 2006 Playmate of the Year.

It's Kara's girl next door look that earned her a spot on the list.

5

Amber Campisi

February 2005

Busty, sexy, and voluptuous brunette stunner Amber Lynn Campisi was born on June 21, 1981 in Dallas, Texas. She's of Italian descent. Amber was chosen to be the Playmate of the Month for the February, 2005 issue of the famous men's magazine. She has not only appeared in a handful of "Playboy" videos, but has also popped up on episodes of the realty TV series "The Girls Next Door," "Bridget's Sexiest Beaches," and "Kendra."

4

Sarah & Deisy Teles

December 2003

This is every man's fantasy, two sexy twins nude. I will admit that there is something about their pictorial that could be considered taboo...they are sisters! However, I have to be an adult about it and realize that it's not the first time that they've seen each other nude.

They were the fourth set of twins to appear as playmates. The siblings first posed nude in a cover pictorial for the Brazilian Playboy in March 2003, after being chosen among 30,000 sets of twin sisters.

Christine Smith

December 2005

She came to Playboy's attention after she accompanied a friend who wanted to try out. Stephen Wayda took some test photographs and sent them along to Hugh Hefner. A week later, Smith did a test shoot and was subsequently named Miss December.

She's one of my favorites for several reasons. Christine has a naughty look with the body of a temptress.

A large photograph of Pamela Anderson in a bikini, standing on a beach with a white umbrella in the background.

2

Pamela Anderson

February 1990

She appeared as the cover girl on Playboy magazine's October 1989 issue. At that point she decided to live in Los Angeles to further pursue her modeling career. Playboy subsequently chose her as Playmate of the Month in their February 1990 issue, in which she appeared in the centerfold photo. Pamela has appeared on more covers than any other model.

As far as I'm concerned, Pamela broke the mold and popularized the sex tape...one of the best.

A large photograph of Anna Nicole Smith in a white dress, posing with her arms crossed over her chest.

Anna Nicole Smith

It was the very thing that made Vickie aka Anna Nicole Smith that at first earned her a rejection from Playboy...her large frame! It was thought that her size would make her difficult to shoot. Thank God Hef stepped in!

It's Anna Nicole's small teeth (God I love her teeth) and her Amazonian size that places her in a different modeling category. It's a category that she created and I doubt that there will ever be another one like her.

STAND YOUR GROUND

A stand-your-ground law is a type of self-defense law that gives individuals the right to use deadly force to defend themselves without any requirement to evade or retreat from a dangerous situation. It is law in certain jurisdictions within the United States. The basis may lie in either statutory law or common law precedents or both. One key distinction is whether the concept applies only to defending lawfully occupied locations. Under these legal concepts, a person is justified in using deadly force in certain situations, and the stand-your-ground law would be a defense or immunity to criminal charges and civil suit. The difference between immunity and a defense is that an immunity bars suit, charges, detention, and arrest. A defense, including an affirmative defense, is a fact or set of facts that may avoid or mitigate the adverse legal consequences of the defendant's otherwise unlawful conduct.

Forty-six states have adopted the castle doctrine which gives each American citizen the right to protect his or her home.

So what exactly is the need for a law that allows citizens to protect themselves without having to evade or retreat EVERYWHERE?

Supporters of the law claim that its adoption has caused a decrease in violent crime rates by 11%.

I'm sure that we are all familiar with the George Zimmerman case and most recently Michael Dunn who fatally shot 17 year old Jordan Davis for being in a car that was playing loud music, but here are some other examples that you may not have heard about where Stand Your Ground was used as a defense.

- During an argument at a 2009 party in Fort Myers, Omar Bonilla fired his gun into the ground and beat Demarro Battle, then went inside and gave the gun to a friend. If Battle feared for his life, he had time to flee. Instead, he got a gun from his car and returned to shoot Bonilla three times, including once in the back. Battle was not charged in the slaying.
- At another party in the same town five months later, Reginald Etienne and Joshua Sands were arguing. Etienne left the party and returned with a knife. During a fistfight between the two men, Etienne fatally stabbed Sands. He was sent to prison for life.

- In Winter Springs, Owen Eugene Whitlock came home on Christmas Eve 2009 to find his daughter's boyfriend, Jose Ramirez, angrily stalking up his driveway, flexing his muscles and swinging his fists. Whitlock stood his ground and fired a fatal shot. He was not charged.
- In Clearwater, Terry Tyrone Davis shot and killed his cousin as he stalked up the walkway of Davis' home in 2010 with a group of friends. "There's no doubt he was going over there to kick his a--," Circuit Judge Philip J. Federico said, "but that does not allow you to kill a guy." Davis is now serving 25 years in prison.
- In West Palm Beach, Christopher Cote started pounding on the door of neighbor Jose Tapanes at 4 a.m. after an argument over Cote's dog. Tapanes stepped outside and fired his shotgun twice, killing Cote. A jury acquitted him, but prosecutors and a judge had discounted Tapanes' self-defense claim, saying if he was truly afraid for his life, he should not have stepped outside.
- Two men fell into the water while fighting on a dock. When one started climbing out of the water, the other shot him in the back of the head, killing him. He was acquitted after arguing "stand your ground."
- A Seventh-day Adventist was acting erratically, doing cartwheels through an apartment complex parking lot, pounding on cars and apartment windows and setting off alarms. A tenant who felt threatened by the man's behavior shot and killed him. He was not charged.
- A Citrus County man in a longstanding dispute with a neighbor shot and killed the man one night in 2009. He was not charged even though a witness and the location of two bullet wounds showed the victim was turning to leave when he was shot.
- Anthony Gonzalez Jr. was part of a 2010 drug deal that went sour when someone threatened Gonzalez with a gun. Gonzalez chased the man

- (cont.) down and killed him during a high-speed gunbattle through Miami streets.

Gonzalez's lawyer argued he had a right to be in his car, was licensed to carry a gun and thought his life was in danger.

One of the most important facts is that defendants claiming stand your ground where the victim is black are more likely to be released. 73% of those who killed black people weren't even charged compared to 59% of those who shot whites.

Let's remove race from the equation, though statistically it should not be ignored...but for the sake of argument we will.

What this law does is allow anyone with a chip on their shoulder and the right to carry a firearm to control any given situation and that puts all of us at risk despite our race.

If someone thinks you should put your cellphone away, turn your music down or discipline your child and confronts you, failure to comply could result in loss of life.

Think about it!

If your child is crying when Johnny Asshole with a conceal and carry permit comes up to you and tells you to quiet the kid down, do you really want to tell him to mind his own fucking business?

Now he feels threatened and shoots you dead where you stand.

Where are your rights or your freedom?

If a gun toting person with a desire to be "law enforcement" can dictate what you are allowed to do in a public place without consequence then that's just another freedom taken away and folks should be outraged. This law is nothing more than a big, wet, sloppy French kiss for the NRA! If I know that there is a prick that could shoot me for whatever then I'm going to buy a gun to defend myself.

And that's what this law is about...gun sales!

American Values

There are 316.6 million people living in the United States of America, the third most populated country in the world.

Of those 316.6 million...

- 64.86% are white
- 15.1% are Hispanic
- 12.85% are African-American
- 4.43% are Asian
- 2.76% are Other (which includes two or more races, Pacific Islander and native Hawaiian)

In the United States, there are approximately 1.8 million people in prison. In contrast, there are about 1 million teachers,

Of those 1.8 million...

- 1 in 106 white men are in prison
- 1 in 36 Hispanics
- 1 in every 15 African-American

Despite the fact that minorities make up 30% of the population, they account for 60% of the prison population. 1 in 3 African-American men can expect to go to jail at some point in the life.

This also effect women of color. The incarceration rate of women has increased 800% in the last 30 years. African American women are three times more likely than white women to be incarcerated, while Hispanic women are 69 percent more likely than white women to be incarcerated.

There are 46 million people in the United States living below the poverty line.

When you break down those numbers states by state, it just doesn't make sense.

In my home state of Ohio 15% of Whites are living below the poverty line while 42% of the African-American and 42% of Hispanics are among the poor.

Nationally, the highest poverty rates belonged to the Native Americans who have a poverty rate of 27%, African-Americans came in second at 25.8% while Native Hawaiians and Pacific Islanders came in third at 17.6%.

Nine states had poverty rates of about 30 percent or more for American Indians and Alaska Natives (Arizona, Maine, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Utah).

The national poverty rate for Whites was 11.6 percent, and most states (43) as well as the District of Columbia had poverty rates lower than 14.0 percent for this group.

When it comes to education in the United States...

Roughly half a million students in 65 nations and educational systems representing 80 percent of the global economy took part in the 2012 edition of PISA, which is coordinated by the Paris-based Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development, or OECD.

— In math, the U.S. average score was 481. Average scores ranged from 368 in Peru to 613 in Shanghai. The global average was 494.

— In science, the U.S. average score was 497. Average scores ranged from 373 in Peru to 580 in Shanghai. The global average was 501.

— In reading, the U.S. average score was 498. Average scores ranged from 384 in Peru to 570 in Shanghai. The global average was 496. NBCNews

In 2013, students in the US slid from 20th in 2009 to 24th in science, from 25th to 31st in math and 11th to 21st in reading. In math this was 12 places below average, reading it was 2 places below average and in science the United States ranks 8 places below average. Business Insider

As for guns...

The United States has more guns and gun deaths than any other developed country in the world.

A study by two New York City cardiologists found that the U.S. has 88 guns per 100 people and 10 gun-related deaths per 100,000 people — more than any of the other 27 developed countries they studied.

Japan, on the other hand, had only .6 guns per 100 people and .06 gun-related deaths per 100,000 people, making it the country with both the fewest guns per capita and the fewest gun-related deaths.

Country	Guns per 100	Deaths per 100,000
United States	88.8	10.2
Switzerland	45.7	3.84
Finland	45.3	3.64
Sweden	31.6	1.47
Norway	31.3	1.78

Education vs. Defense Spending

The Obama administration 2013 budget plan requested $69.8 billion for higher education while $525.4 billion would go to defense.

As the government plans to spend 7.6% of what it spends on defense towards educating our young, the cost of higher education continues to rise. This is leaving many of those who have taken out loans to pay for their education stuck with a lifetime bill.

The cost of a college degree in the United States has increased "12 fold" over the past 30 years, far out-pacing the price inflation of consumer goods, medical expenses and food.

According to Bloomberg, college tuition and fees have increased 1,120 percent since records began in 1978.

Bloomberg reports that the rate of increase in college costs has been "four times faster than the increase in the consumer price index." It also notes that "medical expenses have climbed 601 percent, while the price of food has increased 244 percent over the same period."

Huffington Post

As cost rise, wages aren't just stagnant...they are plummeting.

More and more jobs are being outsourced and a number of those middle class earners who were causing the wage statistics to appear that they were "stagnant" are either retiring early or being replaced by workers all over the world.

As the United States continues to suffer from high levels of unemployment we are living in a society where there are at least 3 applicants for every job which is causing a decrease in wages being paid to those without a high school degree by 66% and if you are lucky enough to list "some college" on your application you are making a third of what you would have made thirty years ago.

This is while the average wages of CEOs, Hedge fund managers and elected politicians have gone through the roof.

The averages?

- Average pay for CEOs at the top 350 firms, including stock options is $14 million a year - up 37.4% since 2009
- Hedge fund managers make an average of $2.2 million. Salaries start around $350K.

- The compensation for most Senators, Representatives, Delegates, and the Resident Commissioner from Puerto Rico has been $174,000.

Not that much really but check this out...

The Members' Representational Allowance (MRA) is available to support Representatives in their official and representational duties.

Individual MRAs for 2013 were further reduced by 8.2%.¹³ The 2013 allowances ranged from $1,183,717 to $1,356,445, with an average MRA of $1,243,560. Congressional Research Service

Hmmm...

Net Worth

- Sen. Darrell Issa/Republican - $355 million
- Sen. Michael McCaul/Republican - $114 million
- Sen. Mark Warner/Democrat - $96 million
- Sen. Richard Blumenthal/Democrat - $85 million
- Sen. Jay Rockefeller/Democrat - $83 million
- Sen. John Delany/Democrat - $63 million
- Rep. Jared Polis/Democrat - $68 million
- Rep. Scott Peters/Democrat - $44 million
- Sen. Dianne Feinstein/Democrat - $41 million

Just for kicks...

- Sen. Mitch McConnell/Republican - $9 million
- Speaker John Boehner/Republican - $2 million
- Sen. Nancy Pelosi/Democrat - $4 million
- Paul Ryan/Republican - $2 million
- Rush Limbaugh - $450 million

Overall the Republican party still has the edge with 29 millionaires out of the 50 lawmakers.

37 House representatives are millionaire with 13 in the Senate.

The Wrap Up

I know that I've hit you with a whole lot of stats and despite those FACTS, if I were to walk into any crowded room in the United States of America and shouted at the top of my lungs "American Values Suck!" I would be showered by boo birds and probably a few other types of birds.

I don't think for one second that there aren't millions of people who still value hard work and taking care of your own. However, statistically we DON'T live in that type of society any longer...if we ever have.

Statistically, we live in a country where people are being killed by guns at a rate higher than anywhere else in the world.

Statistically, we live in a country where we are not only failing to invest in educating our children, we aren't even sure they'll come home alive when we put them on the school bus in the morning.

We worship the rich and believe me, I'm the last person that will demonize the HAVES in this country but the HAVES are no longer sharing.

WE live in a society where we look down our noses at people on government assistance without realizing that if the rhetoric that the ignorant are using to make us believe those in need were actually "milking" the system were true their benefits would be cut off faster than Superman in a foot race.

I was surprised to learn that on average 3-4 people were killed per day during the War in Iraq, in comparison approximately 86 people die from gun violence in America everyday!

We are at war with ourselves!

And no one is stopping it! There is no knight in shining armor that is going to come in and save the country because even if they promise change, they are just another paid advertisement for corporations.

What will it take for Americans to unite and truly make this a great country that others in the world CAN look at as the shining city upon a hill?

Honey West Presents

Sex Symbol Throwback - Raquel Welch

I recently saw a photo of sex symbol Raquel Welch which really blew my mind. The caption said she was(drum roll please)....73 YEARS OLD. Okay, we know that celebs thrive on botox, nip/tucks and fake boobs that can make even a 90 year-old look like a Milfy 50, but I had to read the caption twice to make sure my eyes weren't playing tricks on me.

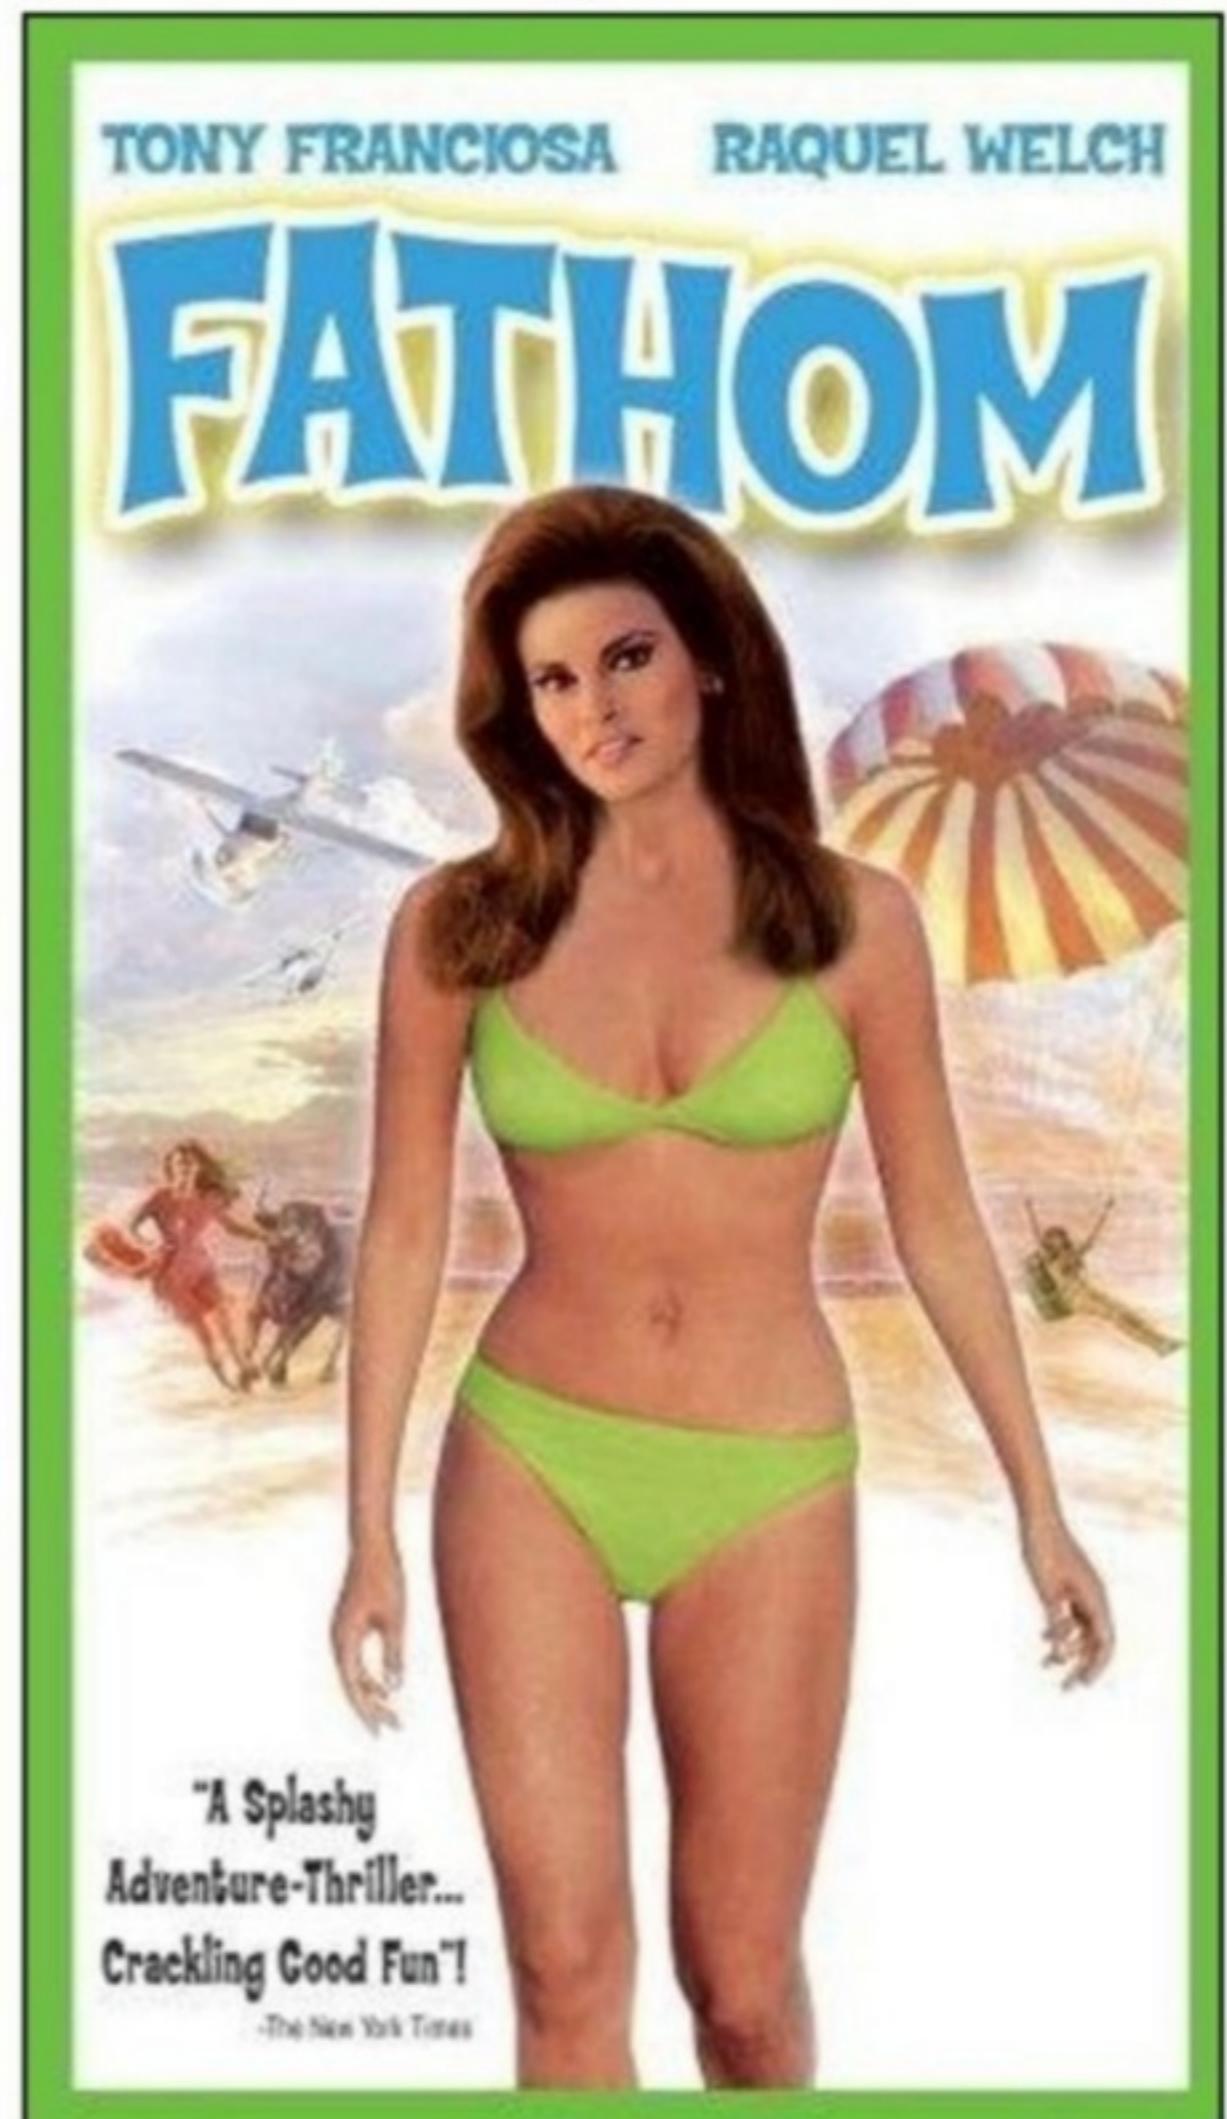

Seventy-freakin'-three? I've seen some "well preserved" celebs over the years and tons of photoshopped pics, but when I saw this photo, I had to wonder if she'd sold her soul to the devil!

In a couple of years, this lady is gonna be halfway to 80! Damn! Whatever your opinion may be of the cosmetic "help" available to the rich and famous, a woman still has to have the basic blueprint for beauty underneath it all, plus a huge dose of self-discipline when it comes to exercise and diet.

She looks smoking' in a curve-hugging leopard print dress that many 18 year-olds don't have the bod or the confidence to wear. Wow! Is 73 the new 23? In her world it is! If anything, I'd say Raquel Welch has gotten even better and more curvaceous over the years.

Coincidentally, I'd just watched and thoroughly enjoyed one of her campy 60's flicks, "Fathom", a

James Bond-style spy adventure. Her character, Fathom Harvill, is a sexy dental assistant turned skydiver. I wasn't quite sure how her character had segued from dental assisting into spying and skydiving, but hey, it was the wild 60's and anything was possible! I'm a huge fan of retro stuff, and Ms. Welch embodies the sexy quality of that era in a way that few women have. It brought back a lot of great pop culture memories and made me realize more than ever: they don't make 'em like that anymore! If you're into lime green bikinis, I'd definitely recommend renting "Fathom", featuring Raquel in lots of skimpy swimwear of various colors, doing her thing in dazzling international locations and swinging 60's outfits. The movie also has a fabulous musical score by jazz legend John Dankworth, giving the flick an ultra-cool vibe that will transport you to a beautiful place.

She's one of the last of the old school bombshells who has proven to be like fine wine; she can go the distance, putting herself out there with fun, class and style, so a bit of throwback love from the Top Floor is definitely in order!

She was born Jo Raquel Tejada on September 5, 1940 (she'll celebrate her 74th birthday this year!) Her father was born in La Paz, Bolivia and her mother was American, so she had a rather exotic start in life. Fate had a lot of crazy things in store for Ms. Tejada that she never planned or even necessarily wanted. Who could forget the iconic fur bikini poster from "One Million Years B.C." (1966) that catapulted her to pin-up fame? In 2011, Time magazine voted it one of the "Top 10 Bikinis In Pop Culture."

A lot of dudes back in the day had this poster on their wall, and I bet there's mancaves today where it proudly hangs. Maybe she could still squeeze into this itsy bitsy deerskin bikini at 73 (or perhaps a slightly altered version?) I really think she needs to do an updated poster for old time's sake, eh?

In 1979, Raquel hit the cover of Playboy!

Her journey in show business from 1979 to 2014 was a long and quite varied road - she's done everything from singing, to dancing to performing a one-woman show in Vegas to appearing on Broadway. Oh, and had a couple of kids along the way. And four marriages. But hey, who's counting? In 1974 she won a Golden Globe for Best Actress in "The Three Musketeers".

This lady is a tough survivor and in common with most sex symbols, she had the inner desire to prove to the world that she could do more than show off her cleavage.

I've read a few excerpts and it's actually an interesting and well-written book. Most show biz memoirs like this tend to be all fluff and no substance, but I think she truly wants to share her life with her fans. Believe it or not, there is a real woman behind the sex goddess image that she's somewhat carefully designed and crafted over the years. She talks about her childhood, her cold and domineering Bolivian father, (she fearlessly stood up to him with a fireplace poker after he threw a glass of milk in her mother's face), coming to terms with her Latina heritage, and of course her roller coaster career that certainly had its share of ups and downs.

But the burning question is: has she been nipped and tucked? She says no. She insists her personal Fountain of Youth is all about yoga and diet. I gotta say, I'm not buying that, but whatever she's had done, it looks damn good,. Are her boobs natural? In Playboy and other interviews, she's said that she's never had implants, which I tend to believe. At 17 in the 1950's when she won her first beauty pageant, she already had a great rack. Over the years, she probably had a lift to keep her "assets" perky, but nature clearly blessed Raquel in the Boob Department from the get go.

She reveals in her book that it takes "three hours" to put on her "game face", so at least she's honest enough to admit that it isn't easy to look the way she looks at 73. I give her points for being refreshingly real.

Her Three Hour Game Face!

RAQUEL - 2013

One of our fave questions at Top Floor is: "Who'd you rather?" Hmm... The 1967 version or the "aging like fine wine" version? C'mon guys, be honest! You know you'd hit it at 73! Any way you "slice" it, she ain't bad for an old broad! Rock on Raquel! You - and especially that wild prehistoric cavegirl bikini that we all know and love - are true legends and we salute you!

VITAMIN C

Photography By Daniel Andreas - Interview by D. Dibrell

One of the most striking models that we've featured, Mia McKinley has been the cover girl on several issues of TFM, most recently our November 2013 publication. Mia has been featured on a regular basis for nearly three years. In all that time there was only one thing that was missing...a true connection!

Sure we had her photos but we never really got to know her.

In February 2014, we decided to change that!

We reached out to Mia for an interview.

Our goal was to get to know her better and for you to do the same.

So without further ado...

How long have you been in the adult entertainment industry and how did you get started?

I was in Playboy (my first photo shoot ever!) and after that I started getting all kinds of offers.

How many movies have you shot so far?

I have shot only one DVD- MILFs Next Door #14 from Reality Kings but I have shot a lot of videos for private collectors who are into fetishes. I have also shot quite a bit for my Clips 4 Sale store.

As far as work is concerned, what would you consider some of your specialties?

Well, I have gotten pretty great at deep throat! I also give a great footjob.

What would you consider to be the wildest scene you've ever shot?

A scene where I am fighting another girl under water and I drown.

And your favorite?

I would have to say that I really enjoyed some of the girl/girl videos I have shot.

Do you have a favorite co-star that you like to work with?

I loved to work with Kristen Cameron.

What's the naughtiest thing that you've ever done in your personal life?

I keep my personal life and my porn life separated. Sorry....

No...no problem, I totally understand. What's the naughtiest on film?

Besides the anal, lesbian, footjobs, handjobs, cum eating and squirting?

Yes, just kidding. I guess that pretty much sums it up, right? How much of your work carries over into your personal life?

Absolutely none. I am actually a very boring person.

When did you decide it was time to become a part of the adult industry?

I was doing a photo shoot and the photographer asked me to do some “Hustler” style poses. After that I did simulated girl/girl and eventually I decided if I was going to be in this business I might as well go all the way!

What was it like shooting your first scene?

I was very nervous. But the girl I worked with helped me get through it...

Before shooting a scene, what do you do to prepare?

A glass of wine, makeup and I’m ready!

I typically ask this question but everyone seems to have a different answer. Name three things that you think people should know about the porn industry?

It’s a fantasy, The people in the films are real people and (I’ve never done it before) I’m pretty sure triple penetration doesn’t feel good!

What turns you on?

Confidence, strength, sense of humor

Turn you offs?

Arrogance, and people who think they have “game”

What qualities do you look for in a man?

The kind of man that always does the right thing. I know that sounds a little cheesy but I respect that a lot.

If you were stranded on a deserted island what three things would you have to have with you?

A boat, water and sunscreen .

What projects do you have coming up?

I have been shooting a lot of content for my C4S store.

Anything that you would like to say directly to our readers?

Stay in school! - Thanks Mia, we will!

Award-winning photographer Jack Watson has crafted a unique book dedicated to female glamour images created in black and white to honor the famous Hollywood stills photographers of the 1920's and 30's. With the help of a large collection of stunning glamour models who have been featured globally in many print, web, and video media including Playboy Enterprises™, Watson shows you how he creates sensuous, seductive glamour black and white images out of virtually any color glamour photograph. Dispelling the myth that not all color images make good black and white images, this book illustrates how virtually any glamour photo to create the look of the Hollywood masters.

Jack Watson's Complete Guide to Creating Black and White Female Glamour Images includes a CD with every photo in the book. All of the black and white photos started out as color digital files. They have been provided in their original color form for your unrestricted non-commercial use. This book is for those who have some basic Photoshop skills and want to broaden their horizons and experiment with additional plug-ins and software such as Nik Color Efex Pro Complete, Nik Silver Efex Pro, Topaz Adjust, and Topaz BW Effects. It's also for anyone who just loves looking at beautiful black and white female glamour images.

While most of the images in the book are "sexy" in nature, a number of examples show how sexy is not always the naked truth, but quite the contrary. Clothed or nude, the female form is a thing of beauty. At the very least, this book will make you rethink what is truly glamorous. Creating black and white glamour photos will help you see with your brain and feel with your heart. Remember it's not what you see in a photograph that moves you; it's what you don't see. So, boot up your computer, open your favorite photo software, and put the CD in the drive, and create some magic.
